Update on LTC James Nitzsche

Wednesday, 29 September 2021:

From Goldie Schuh:

Your thoughts and prayers are needed for LTC James Nitzsche. Jim is being treated for lung cancer and his treatments on the one lung will go into next month but he was advised earlier this week some spots have been found on the other. He is scheduled to meet with his team later this week. Jim has given me permission to share his contact information if you would like to reach out to him. We know the power of prayer, let's get some going Jim's way.
